

WORLD FEDERATION
FOR CHESS COMPOSITION

11th WORLD CHESS
COMPOSITION TOURNAMENT

RESULTS

October 2022

The 11th World Chess Composition Tournament (WCCT) of the WFCC is completed. In total 33 countries participated in the tournament with 550 compositions in eight sections. The tournament was announced in May 2020 and the closing date for the submission of entries was July 1st, 2021. One document with clarifications and one with claims and replies were circulated to the participating countries. In March 2022 WFCC decided to exclude the teams of Russia and Belarus from the tournament in response to the hostilities in Ukraine and the Official Statements of FIDE Executive Council. The closing date for the judgments was extended to August 1st, 2022 and they were all received on time. My sincere thanks to the team captains, the co-ordinators and judges in the countries as well as to the members of the WCCT committee, all of whom helped to ensure that the tournament was concluded successfully and in line with the schedule.

As in the previous WCCT, the tournament includes 8 sections with only the 7 best section results considered for the score of a team. The highest and lowest marks for each composition are discarded in all cases; if a composition belongs to a judging country, its score is the sum of the two middle marks multiplied by one and a half. If a composition receives a zero mark from two or more judging countries, it is excluded from the tournament and receives no points. The scale step of 0.2 points was used again; no complaints were received this time, which implies that the scale can be considered established in WCCT.

In each section the twenty highest-placed compositions (hereinafter called the "top 20") are printed on diagrams with full solutions. If several entries are ranked equally and share the 20th place, all of them are printed on diagrams. If the third-placed entry of a country belongs to the "top 20" list, it is also printed on diagram even though it does not contribute to that country's score. The compositions not belonging to the "top 20" list are mentioned only by means of their reference number, composer and country names, score, place and comments. These compositions are to be considered as published.

Director of the 11th WCCT*
